International Level Crossing Awareness Day (ILCAD) 3 June 2015

Antonio Avenoso's statement: "It is wrong that hundreds are still dying unnecessarily every year in Europe at level crossings. In the long run, we need to replace them with bridges and underpasses. But right now, much more can be done. High-risk level crossings must be identified from the data and prioritized for infrastructure improvements. And we need better enforcement and education to get the message across that level crossings can still be lethal."
