

Libor LOCHMAN
Executive Director
Community of European Railway and Infrastructure Companies (CER)

www.cer.be

Message:

Each death at a level crossing accident is one too much. The rail sector is constantly striving to reduce the number of such accidents by deploying innovative technologies to further improve the safety of level crossing users.

At the same time, it is equally important to raise awareness and to promote safe behaviour of road users. CER has been supporting the International Level Crossing Awareness Day for many years. It is a useful platform which encourages cooperation among rail companies as well as other related sectors, especially road.